

COMMITTEE MEET TODAY TO DISCUSS ISSUE

Will Decide on Size of the Issue Needed to Finance Plans for Big Civic Improvements.

NOTHING MAKES ANSWER TO HILLERY'S OBJECTION

Says Atlanta Bonds Possess Greater Attractiveness Than Those of New York, President Hope Resigns.

Convinced that Atlanta has reached a stage which prevents the development of the city with the current rate of growth, the bond issue committee will today formulate a report recommending that council authorize a bond election to finance plans for improving schools, waterworks, sewers and other municipal needs.

What amount the committee will recommend is not certain, but the amount will either be $1,500,000 or $1,600,000 for all purposes.

Two members of the subcommittee which has been investigating the needs of the various departments—Alderman Armstrong and Councilman Smith—are expected to be present at the meeting. Alderman James H. Nutting, chairman of the subcommittee, is of the opinion that the city will be able to obtain the entire bond issue within $2,500,000.

Needs of the Schools. The committee is unanimous as to the amount needed by all other departments except the schools. Alderman Armstrong, who is chairman of the school committee, is strongly advocating an issue of $1,500,000 for school purposes only and $2,500,000 for the use of the various other departments, or $4,000,000 for all purposes.

Alderman Nutting, who is chairman of the committee, is of the opinion that the city will be able to obtain the entire bond issue within $2,500,000.

Meeting Resolved. Alderman Nutting's contention. He pointed out that Atlanta's bond issue has reached a margin of $12,000,000 and pointed out further that even with the city's outstanding indebtedness it still has a borrowing margin of $7,000,000.

NAB COLONEL ALEXANDER AS THE SLAYER

Colonel Charles Alexander, of Providence, Is Indicted Under Mann Act, Arrested, Poetry Figures in Case.

Chicago, December 4.—Colonel Charles Alexander, a Providence millionaire indicted here charged with violation of the Mann act, has been arrested in Providence, according to an announcement here by Charles F. Clyne, district attorney. He is charged with transporting Miss Jessie Cope, of Los Angeles, Cal. from Los Angeles to Chicago.

Miss Cope is under surveillance of federal officers in Chicago and it is reported the grand jury will consider charges of extortion, said to have been made against her.

Colonel Alexander is a member of the firm of Alexander Bros., at Providence, and a director of the Canadian Steel company, according to a statement issued by District Attorney Clyne. Colonel Alexander met Miss Cope at a social gathering in Los Angeles two years ago, the statement said.

"He explained he would procure a wife and marry her. Then he proceeded to make violent love to Miss Cope."

The evidence of the girl shows she relied on his promise to marry her. The suggestion Miss Cope met him in Chicago February 15, 1913. They occupied connecting rooms at a downtown hotel. Later they went to New Orleans and from there to California.

Prisons Hold Innocent Men Convicted by Unfair Trials

—Warden W. H. Moyer

Declaring that prisons everywhere hold innocent men, convicted by unfair trials, Warden W. H. Moyer, of the federal prison in Atlanta, delivered an interesting address at the Atlanta Law school Friday afternoon.

Warden Moyer first discussed the causes of crime and the methods of punishing criminals in a prison. He said that the greatest amount of good might be accomplished and the prisoner reformed by the use of the prison.

"I hope you will pardon my thus declaring that the prison is a place where the innocent are held, and the guilty are freed."

Warden Moyer also discussed at length in his address the Lombroso theory of hereditary crime, and made a strong argument in opposition to it. He declared that criminals are made by environment and circumstance, and not by heredity.

STAR'S STORIES SHOW CRISIS IN 7,000,000 BELGIANS

Cut From Food Supply by Both Germans and Allies, Their Only Hope Is in Relief From America.

London, December 4.—Herbert Clark Hoover, chairman of the American commission for relief in Belgium, returned to London today after a week's trip of inspection in Belgium. He reported that distribution of food is a weak way, but declared famine still threatens the population and that on account of the attitude of the belligerents the Belgians must still appeal to the people of the United States for relief.

"It is difficult to state the position of the civil population of Belgium with respect to the situation," said Mr. Hoover's statement. "I do not know that history presents any parallel of a population of 7,000,000 people surrounded by a ring of steel and utterly unable by any conceivable effort of their own to save themselves."

Dependent on Imports. "From the nature of things it is impossible for the commission even to possess an opinion in the rights and wrongs which have created this situation," the statement said. "The Germans state flatly that the people of Belgium are normally dependent on the importation of foodstuffs for five-sixths of their subsistence."

There are considerable quantities of foodstuffs available in Belgium, the statement said. In some localities there still are stocks of food for two or three weeks, but in certain other localities there has been no bread available for some time.

IMPORTANT VICTORY OVER THE GERMANS CLAIMED BY RUSSIA IN FIGHT AT LODZ

Report Is Contradicted by Statement From Berlin, Which Announces That German Offensive in Poland Is Taking Normal Course.

London, December 4.—(10:30 p. m.) Reliable news of the progress of the battle of Lodz, which commenced on October 10, has been received. An unofficial dispatch from Lodz says the battle of Lodz has ended in success for the Russians, but this statement contradicts the Berlin official report, which says the German offensive in Poland is taking its normal course.

The fact is that fighting in this battle has developed into such a jumble that it is almost impossible to follow it. The most important factor in the battle is that the German advance on Warsaw seems to have succeeded in its object, nor has it diverted the Russians from their forward movement through the Carpathians and on to the plains of Poland.

In the ballroom the pillars made the support of sycamore trees, cut out of the woods, and their bare branches were hung with Florida moss. Running up from the base of each tree into the branches were contrasting

CORN CLUB SHOW PROVES A SPLENDID SUCCESS

Display Eclipsed Previous Efforts and the Attendance Was Good.

Although most of the corn club boys have gone home and the work of removing the exhibits from the state capital will begin today, it can be said that the corn show is all over but the shouting.

As a matter of fact, the real results of the corn show have yet hardly begun. Those who begin with the planting season of next spring, when it is believed, that largely as a direct result of the interest in raising corn and further diversifying crops that has been aroused by the fourth annual corn show, Georgia will enter upon the biggest year of crop diversification that she has ever had in her history.

That the corn and other grain, hogs and cattle can be raised in Georgia has been well demonstrated by this show and the interest in making the raising of crops other than cotton a business and not merely a demonstration is keen indeed.

The fourth annual corn show was undoubtedly the biggest and most successful show ever held in Georgia. It is already too well known to be repeated. The annual corn show is now more firmly established than ever, and next year's show will be still greater in interest and attendance.

There was a fine attendance upon the show both before and after the opening. Older visitors from all parts of the state, and the boys and girls who came to the show were all well and happy. The show was a success in every way.

The corn show was a success in every way. It was a success in every way. It was a success in every way. It was a success in every way.

MRS. BRECKINRIDGE WILL SPEAK HERE FOR SUFFRAGISTS

The suffragists of Atlanta are delighted with the announcement made Friday that they will have Mrs. Deana Breckinridge, of Lexington, Ky., a prominent local suffrage leader, to address them some time in the near future.

Mrs. Breckinridge is vice president of the National Women's Suffrage association and president of the Kentucky Equal Rights association.

She is a speaker of nation-wide reputation on suffrage questions. Mrs. Breckinridge is a granddaughter of Henry Clay and is said to have inherited much of the great statesman's oratorical power.

She is now upon a speaking tour in Texas.

The date and place of her address in Atlanta has not yet been fixed, but the date will be some time about the middle of December.

She will make several speeches in Georgia under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage Party of Georgia.

After searching through all the pawn shops of the city for his pistol, which was stolen from his home in West End Tuesday afternoon by burglars, who took away many other valuable articles, Sergeant A. D. Luck, of the Atlanta police force, late Friday afternoon recovered his long-lost "pet" in a pawn shop on Marietta street.

With the recovery of his revolver, Sergeant Luck is once more wearing his full equipment. He informs everyone now that he has "caught his pistol," if he couldn't catch his burglar.

CREDIT OF GEORGIA IS CONSIDERED EXCELLENT

Governor John M. Slaton, upon his return from New York city, where he has been conferring with financiers with a view to refunding Georgia's bonds, has declared that the financial limitations and protection of bond issues in Georgia last made the credit of the state impregnable in eastern financial circles.

The fact that bonds may not be issued except for irrevocable emergencies and that $100,000 must be set aside each year for the retirement of bonds, he said, is a strong card.

Mrs. Chase Foremost Authority On Subject of Culinary Art

Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, who comes to this city next week to give a series of lectures on the subject of the culinary art, is a well-known authority on the subject. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago, in which city she makes her home. Her club affiliations and her many opportunities for contact with representative women enable her to treat the subject of the culinary art with the authority of an expert.

Her audiences are an occasion of pleasure to her, and she will take the happy medium, and she will take the happy medium, and she will take the happy medium.

The resources of Mrs. Chase in bringing new information to familiar and time-worn subjects has been a great asset to her. She has lectured, like a slight of hand artist, this clever woman can invent a familiar dish with undreamed-of possibilities, though she has never used the recipe for a number of years.

She is a woman of perfect poise and charm, and she will take the happy medium, and she will take the happy medium, and she will take the happy medium.

Personality is one of Mrs. Chase's strong assets. She will not only be a popular demonstrator with Atlanta audiences, but a prime social favorite. She is a woman of perfect poise and charm, and she will take the happy medium, and she will take the happy medium, and she will take the happy medium.

Women Must Prepare Themselves. Nowadays there is no excuse for a girl entering into the responsibilities of housekeeping without understanding at least the fundamental principles of household government. Even with the excellent training that may, had these modern days, it requires all a woman's resourcefulness to successfully manage a home. Conditions change so rapidly, new problems arise daily and the woman must be prepared to meet them.

How much more praiseworthy it would be for the modern girl to devote her energy to the game of bridge, or other social pastime, and give more time to serious preparation for becoming the head of a household.

The Chase lecture course, which is absolutely free to all, includes a set of simple rules for housekeeping, which is of inestimable benefit to those who avail themselves of the opportunity. During the week there will not only be lectures on scientific cooking, beautiful demonstrations of plain dishes and otherwise, but helpful hints will be given as to the furnishing of the home, with especial reference to that most important, and much neglected, room, the kitchen. How to select the kind of linen to use, the kitchen ware, labor-saving devices, economical buying, wholesome combinations, and the preparation and serving of meals down to the moment when the happy family assembles around the table.

In a recent contest by one of the popular periodicals women wrote from all sections of the country in answer to the query, "What is your favorite room in the house?" Nine of every ten declared for the dining room. Had men been contestants the same result

MISS ORME DIES; FUNERAL WILL BE HELD IN ATLANTA

Miss Annie Orme, daughter of the late J. T. Orme and Mrs. Mary Dickinson Orme, of Atlanta, died Friday afternoon at Saratoga Lake, N. Y. The news came as a distinct shock to Miss Orme's many friends here.

Young, beautiful, vivacious and charming, she entered society with every opportunity for happiness. She belonged to a family large and influential, and was given many entertainments during her first season.

Upon the death of her father, nearly two years ago, she and her mother moved to Saratoga Lake, N. Y., where she spent a year's travel abroad. While there, Miss Orme's health was not good, and she went to Switzerland, where she improved. On her return from abroad last June, specialists recommended Lake Saratoga and she went to that resort. The body will be brought to Atlanta Sunday for interment. Miss Orme is survived by her mother, one brother, Charles Orme, and one sister, Miss Alice Orme. She was related to the

BOY INJURED IN FALL FROM A STREET CAR

Carl Conklin, 10 years old, of 55 McDonough street, was violently thrown to the pavement from a street car at Washburn and Ridge streets Friday evening and painfully injured.

He was taken up to the Grady hospital, where he is being treated. The injured boy, together with several of his playmates, was swinging off and on moving cars in the street at the time he was injured.

PROF. SLEDD TO PREACH AT THE CENTRAL CHURCH

Rev. Professor Andrew Sledd will preach at the Central Presbyterian church Sunday morning. "Organizational housekeeping without understanding at least the fundamental principles of household government, modern day, it requires all a woman's resourcefulness to successfully manage a home. Conditions change so rapidly, new problems arise daily and the woman must be prepared to meet them."
